

Dispute Resolution Policy

Taylor is committed to providing a dispute free construction environment through consultation and common purpose to achieve early dispute resolution with interested parties.

Our procedures for staff allocation are based on:

- Complying with the contract entitlements of interested parties in order to achieve an early cost effective dispute resolution.
- Ensuring prompt action to resolve disputation issues by negotiation and reach a mutual settlement without effecting the project objectives, maintaining productivity and prevention of further disputation.
- At all times adhering to public probity standards of fairness, impartiality, consistency and accountability.
- Ensuring Project Managers and Site Managers promote a culture of dispute resolution.

This policy will be reviewed in December 2022.
